LTS-216 | Marshall Family

The Marshall Family uses ER 216 from their home base in Tahoe to explore the West in all four seasons.

The family of four sees their EarthRoamer's scratches and bruises as badges of honor as they explore ever deeper off the beaten path. Plowing through fresh snow on distant dirt roads or digging out from deep sand are all signs of a good adventure.

Some of their favorite ER memories are staging their Families' own version of BurningMan in isolation in the Blackrock desert before the crowds show up. As well as bugging out to the middle of Nevada during the early days of the pandemic. With the goal of being as far from any other human being as possible.

This is the Marshall Family's second EarthRoamer.

“Eager to help no matter what we need”

MEET MATT BROOKS

Department: Service

Employee Since: February 2016

Hometown: Arvada, Colorado

Matt has been an outstanding teammate. He's always eager to help his team no matter what we need. Management has even had to call Matt on his days off for help answering questions that they themselves couldn't answer. He has an awesome easygoing personality which makes a great working environment. He is constantly being stretched in several different directions, but he always keeps his cool, and still gets everything done.

Despite having so much on his plate, Matt always goes above and beyond when it comes to service. His knowledge base is basically unrivaled, and he is a vital part of the EarthRoamer Family.
