LTS-158 | Stewart Family

ER 158, known as Jalapeño for its gem green color, is our destination show truck, mobile hunting lodge and exploration base camp. This EarthRoamer was designed specifically for traveling with Cathy and Mike's Labradors providing off-grid accommodations, a go-anywhere adventure vehicle primarily used in support of their business travels with Wildrose Kennels, uklabs.com. In their desirables, they wanted several priorities:

1. extended, off-grid capabilities: water, solar power, extensive battery banks and superb insulation.
2. Towing power for their large dog trailer
3. Back seats were replaced with a dog platform
4. 4x4 capable, under armor and reasonable clearance for off-road challenges.
5. Luxuries including: king-size bed, bath, and non-propane appliances.

Mike and Cathy's journeys outside of shows, events and travel between their training facilities in MS, TX, NC, CO, and AR; have included a two-month trip to Alaska in the fall, 2019. They stayed totally off-grid the entire trip with the exception of one night when the hot weather required them to "plug in" for air conditioning. The 90-gallon water tank and 90-gallon fuel capabilities proved to be extremely valuable on this and other trips. They enjoy the freedom their EarthRoamer offers as they opt to explore backroads less traveled with their dogs and boondock in beautiful locations. Go anywhere, anytime, under any conditions.

“Shows up every day and gives 100%.”

MEET RONALD WAGSTAFF

Department: Composites

Employee Since: May 2020

Hometown: Loveland, Colorado

Ron is a great dedicated worker in his area. He has not missed a day of work since starting. He shows up every day and gives 100%. This month he has been working very hard on HD#8 body work, preparing for a complete x-guard on the shell. He has done a lot of the body work mainly alone, while his coworkers Kenny and Steve focused on other repairs. Ron has come in on weekends and stayed late to make sure his projects get completed by the deadline. He is a great asset to this company and an all-around dedicated employee.
